

The Olynthus

1932

DEDICATION

WE, the Seniors and Juniors of Trinity High School, affectionately dedicate this volume of THE OLYMPUS to EMMA M. McKEAN, whose friendship, kindly interest, and careful guidance have been a constant inspiration to us.

Miss McKean's sincerity, loyalty to the school, and fidelity in service have been vigorous and undeniable forces, moulding the character of students of this and former years.

The inspiration given us by Miss McKean will serve us in the years to come—serve us in the attainment of higher ideals and the development of personal character.

MISS EMMA M. MCKEAN

IN times of financial stress and strain, such as we now are experiencing, in which a panic-stricken world has a tendency to further bog down itself in its unreasonable flounderings, the level-headed and sane attitude of teachers and their self-sacrificing acceptance of conditions which they cannot control adds luster to the already shining achievements of the profession.

If the maxim that one gets just as much as is paid for were to hold true for the services of teachers, the plight of the oncoming men and women of society would be a sad one indeed. The fact that, in spite of reduced remuneration, there is no corresponding decrease in the effort and efficiency of teachers, that loyalty to the school and the profession continues to be unwavering, that the spirit of service leavens the process of making a living by the teaching group, affords a real justification for sincere congratulations and commendation to teachers.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

EARLY one September morning almost four years ago several hundred boys and girls gathered on the large and beautiful campus of Trinity High School. Among them was a smaller group of about two hundred pupils known by the upper class members as "Freshmen." Thus our progressive and outstanding class came into being. After a few days we soon became accustomed to our new surroundings. Later in the fall Clair Hamilton was elected class president and Miss Day was chosen our Faculty adviser. In February we held a Valentine party in the "gym" which turned out to be a great success. During the year we had been infused with the "Trinity School Spirit" and expected to make a name for ourselves in the years to follow.

We returned to school in September nineteen hundred and twenty-nine, after a much enjoyed vacation, ready to begin to work. Being sophomores we were filled with greater confidence in our efforts to raise the standards of Trinity. We were now in a position to look down on the Freshmen and we also won the admiration of the upper classmen by the ability to take care of ourselves in academic work, but also were noted for our ability in all sports and also in the vocational department. We held a very successful party at the home of one of our generous classmates, Goldie Vance.

During our Junior year we worked very hard to live up to our motto, "Study, Strive, and Succeed." As many of you know, we were highly successful. In the Farm Products Show at Harrisburg, Trinity came back with second honors, our president, Irwin Knox, winning a scholarship. Trinity's debating team was composed of Juniors save one. The outstanding member was Joe Ely. Nearly half of the members of the football team were Juniors. The Juniors also held prominent positions in all other sports and activities. We selected as class colors orchid and white, and as flower the sweet pea.

September, nineteen hundred and thirty-one, we are now in the final year of our high school journey. All too soon our high school days will be past forever. We elected Clair Hamilton president at the beginning of this year and he has proved to be a capable leader. We are nearing our goal, and, as seniors are usually leaders, we have already won honor in football and several other activities.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

ONE year ago in September, 1930, about three hundred of us, as new Freshmen at Trinity, assembled in the gymnasium to be divided into groups and taken to our various class rooms.

After becoming accustomed to the rules and schedules, we began to understand things much better.

That year proved a very glorious one to us, as we were highly entertained by the many programs put on by Trinity.

This year we were able to start in without violating the rules of the school, or fearing the many initiations, as we had experienced before.

As the Sophomore Class, we have tried to prove to our associates that our sportsmanship, loyalty, and school spirit have been greater than those of some former Sophomore Classes.

We now hope that the standard which we have set for the Freshman Classes in loyalty, sportsmanship, and school spirit will be an inspiration to them.

We wish especially to thank our teachers and class advisers for their help and co-operation.

—PAUL GOWERN.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

ON Monday morning, August the thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty one, a group of boys and girls numbering over three hundred entered Trinity High School as the new Freshman Class. We assembled in the gymnasium with the principal, Mr. Gordon, and some of the teachers, and were assigned our report rooms. We were then given our schedules and thus we started our Freshman year's work at Trinity.

We had some trouble in finding our class rooms and would often times furnish amusement for the Seniors by entering their rooms. However, everything turned out all right for us; we learned what we should and should not do and soon felt at home.

We Freshmen have the privilege of using the school library, cafeteria, and gymnasium. Many of our class have accepted the privilege of playing basketball and other sports with Miss Kiblinger and Mr. Ellwood as coaches.

Some of the girls of this class joined the Girl Reserve Club, and the boys the Hi-Y Club.

Our Freshman Class is well represented in the music department and many are planning on joining the Trinity Band, when organized.

We, as Freshmen, love Trinity and our aim is to be the best Sophomore Class that has ever attended Trinity High School.

The Trinity Chapter, Future Farmers of America, completed their best year in the history of the organization. The honor of being named the best chapter in the North Atlantic Region, composed of thirteen states, is a worthy accomplishment, but Trinity gained a higher recognition by being named the winner of fourth place in the national contest. A prize of $100 was given the chapter by "American Farming," which is being used to make the work better.

The State Organization honored five of the boys by granting them the Keystone Degree: Clinton Pease, Kenneth Hunter, James Bayne, Walter Sykes, and Anthony Peterson. Clinton Pease was elected Vice President of the Keystone Association and Kenneth Hunter was elected a member of the executive committee. Mr. Ford was granted the Honorary Keystone Degree.

The Trinity Chapter F. F. A. is respected by the other chapters of the State for the work accomplished. We, as members of the organization, will strive to maintain the high standard set by the boys of other years.

Le Cercle Français was organized in 1928. The club has developed and become one of the outstanding activities of Trinity High School. In the fall of 1931, twenty-nine new members were initiated into the club, making a membership of forty-four.

The aim of the club is to enable the students in French to obtain a better understanding of the French language through greater familiarity with the history, life, and customs of the French people.

The meetings, which are held the first and third Thursdays of every month, afford much entertainment and instruction to the members. A number of interesting topics such as: The life and works of Hugo and Voltaire, French castles, cathedrals, and the palace of Versailles, have been given.

Latin may be "a dead, dead language," but it has been partially revived by our Cicero Club. Under the leadership of Miss Anabel Day the fifteen, "far-from-dead" members enjoy not only Latin (Nil admirare!) but also some social hours together.

The meeting day is the second Friday in every month and at these meetings we have many interesting programs. The most of the material for these programs is secured from the club magazine, "Hodierna Aula Latina," which furnishes us, not only material for programs, but also tempts us to try our heads at reading new articles.

History Club

One of the most interesting and instructive organizations of Trinity is the History Club, under the supervision of Mr. Ross, teacher of Junior History. We wish to extend our thanks to Mr. Ross for making it possible to organize such a club in our History Class. This is not a club for entertainment, but one in which we shall learn more about the interesting figures in American History. One of the outstanding features of the club is the qualification for membership: to be eligible one must have a grade of at least eighty-eight per cent. This makes the club an encouragement.

Senior Play

"WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES"

A Farce Comedy by George H. Broadhurst
Presented Under the Direction of E. S. Day

A professor of anatomy is lured to a prize fight, and the police make a raid on the "mill" in which the fight takes place. The professor escapes to his home, followed by Jones, a traveling salesman who sells hymn books and playing cards.

The police are on the trail, so Jones disguises himself by putting on a Bishop's garb and a lot of funny complications ensue. The other fun-makers are aided not a little by an escaped lunatic.

Those taking part were Murray Curran, Elmer Crumrine, Dorwin Gillespie, Robert McClay, Claire Hamilton, William Hughes, Albert Garone, Olga Le Nassi, Eunice Thompson, Louise Heatley, Katherine Shrontz, Anna Marrow, Esther Fabian.

The Library

During the year Trinity's library has been greatly enlarged. At the present time we have almost one thousand books in our "cubby hole" as we call our library room.

Our library has two aims: First, to furnish needed reference material to supplement our text books. To provide this material we have not only our encyclopedias, but also reserve shelves for various subjects. Our second aim is to encourage the reading of good books. We have tried to promote this by building up a fiction shelf. Besides our fiction shelf there are our attractive Junior Literary Guild books, which we hope will stimulate reading for enjoyment.

The librarian feels that she owes a great deal of success to the assistants who have taken care of the library in a most capable manner when she is not present and who have been at all times ready to help.

Taking it all in all, this is just the beginning of our library. In the future we look forward to a greater advancement, which will make Trinity's library one of the most complete throughout the State.

—KATHERINE E. SHRONTZ.

"T" Club

The Girls' "T" Club was organized October 20, 1931. Louise Heatley was elected President and Beatrice Brownlee, Secretary and Treasurer. All girls who have school letters are eligible for membership. We have a point system, including all school activities, for which points are given toward a school letter. The chief function of the club so far is managing noon intramural games. Assisted by other members of the Basketball Squad, we served lunch to the teams after several home games. In this way friendship was created. Our code is: Co-operation—assisting each other and others whenever possible.

CLAIR HAMILTON, President

WILLIAM HUGHES, Vice President

E. VAUGHN ROSS, Faculty Adviser

ROBERT MCCLAY, Secretary

WILLIAM MCCOOL, Treasurer

In the first semester of 1931-32, the Hi-Y Club of Trinity High School was organized under the direction of William S. Baird, of the Washington Y. M. C. A., with twenty-three charter members. Officers were elected and Mr. Ross, who has furthered the club work to a great extent, was chosen adviser.

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of "Christian Character."

The club has held a joint banquet with the Alpha Chapter of Washington High School, a joint meeting and social with the Canonsburg Club, and was invited to a party sponsored by the Girl Reserves at the Y. W. C. A.

Girl Reserves

FLORENCE CARROLL.....President

RUTH BRIDGES.....Vice President

JOSEPHINE RUNGO.....Secretary

ANNA MURPHY.....Treasurer

MARY LOUISE MARTIN.....Faculty Adviser

The Girl Reserves of Trinity have had a very active and successful year. The club meets at the Y. W. C. A. every Wednesday evening immediately after school.

An impressive ceremonial was held at the beginning of the year in the school auditorium. At that time the officers were installed and new members were received. The club is now made up of nearly thirty active members.

Our calendar for the past year has included many entertainments and educational meetings. Some of the chief features were a Christmas party, a Leap Year-Valentine party for the Hi-Y Club, a Salamagundi party, camp fires, and theatre parties, and jointly with other High Schools, a New Year's party, and roller skating parties.

ANN KOROBUSHKIN.....Vice President

FRANCES HERCEG.....Secretary

EDITH MARKO.....Treasurer

MISS MALONE.....Sponsor

The Go-to-College Club has for its members girls who are interested in higher education. It aims to be a stepping-stone between high school and college; to enable students to know what to expect when they go to college and what college will expect of them. It also encourages the formation of those ideals, attitudes, purposes, and habits which prepare students for their own on-going and usefulness. "What are we here for if it is not to make life easier for each other?"

Chorus

The Mixed Chorus is composed of one hundred members: seventy-five girls and twenty-five boys.

The Chorus is much farther advanced than it has been in previous years, in that our instructor, Mrs. Helen Paxton, holds regular classes, and each member attends class twice each week.

We presented a Christmas Cantata at the Masonic Temple, Washington; at Liberty Chapel; in the School Assembly; and over radio station WNBO.

We also helped with the regular Sunday evening services of the North Ten Mile Baptist Church; Liberty Chapel; and the First Christian Church, Washington.

The Girls' Chorus expects to enter the County Music Contest to be held at Donora the first day of April, and we hope to win honors there.

Home Economics

LENA SIM.....	President
ORA CHAMBERS.....	Vice President
NANCY JONES.....	Secretary
MATILDA PRESTON.....	Treasurer

The two years' Home Economics Course offers a wonderful opportunity in the vocations in the manipulations, but also in the science and art principles underlying the processes.

The class work is supplemented by home projects, one of which must be carried to completion each year by each girl.

This year a club, which meets once a week, has been organized. The aim of this club is to enable the girls to be better fitted for home-making.

At the present time there are in the department fifty-four Freshmen and twenty-four Sophomores—a larger enrollment than ever before.

Miss Githens, who succeeded Mrs. Schroyer in the Second Semester, withdrew in mid-term. Miss Evelyn Thayer, a graduate from Margaret Morrison Carnegie College, Carnegie Institute of Technology, is finishing out the term.

—EVELYN AMBROSE.

Demonstration Team

The Trinity Chapter F. F. A. entered a demonstration team in the State Demonstration Contest conducted at the Farm Products Show in Harrisburg during January. The demonstration dealt with the uses of dynamite on the farm, and the boys on the team gave a practical demonstration of the uses that could be made of dynamite. Mr. Ryburn coached the boys and wrote the words necessary for the demonstration. The Trinity team won first place and was awarded the State Chamber of Commerce prize—a F. F. A. Plaque. In addition to winning first place as a team, Howard Ferguson was awarded first place as individual performer. This award carries a scholarship of $100.

—JAMES BAYNE,
Alternate, Demonstration Team.

Cafeteria Girls

Trinity's Cafeteria opened two years ago, serving only cold lunches. Progress has since been made in the sale of hot foods as well. It is an advantage to the pupils and the teachers, since they are able to obtain a well balanced lunch.

The Cafeteria is open for two periods of forty-five minutes each. One credit is given, for service, to each vocational girl.

The group of vocational girls serve, also, at various banquets and dinners.

In the almost three years of its existence, the cafeteria has been self-supporting and the profits are used for purchasing new equipment.

The vocational girls of this year are Louella Galley, Jane Fowler, Lizzie Carlisle, Romaine Howard, Eleanor Moninger, and Ruth Iams.

—RUTH IAMS.

Practice Teachers

For a number of years the Vocational Agricultural Department of Trinity has been used as a "proving ground" by the Pennsylvania State College, and each year has seen a new student of agriculture education in residence at Trinity for a month. This year we enjoyed having Mr. Melvin Blish with us.

This year for the first time an arrangement has been made with Washington and Jefferson College whereby the facilities of Trinity are available for practice teaching by students from that school, who are planning to be teachers. We are pleased to have Mr. Audley Hindman and Mr. Glenn Porter doing their work here this year in Science and Problems of Democracy, under the guidance of Mr. Ellwood and Mr. Hallam respectively.

To these practice teachers we wish most abundant success in their chosen profession.

—THE PRINCIPAL AND THE FACULTY.

Debaters

Names of debaters: Clara Carlson, Murray Curran, Howard Ferguson, Irwin Knox, William Markley, Frances Mitchell, Clinton Pease.

Debate class this year was held on the seminar plan. The technique of debating was studied and practice debates on an industrial question were held early in the year. The best training for debate is a speaking situation, so we went before several granges. In order to secure the full participation of the audiences, we asked them for decisions and criticisms and after the debates, we held open forums. Wishing to secure the view point of others prior to the opening of the season, we scheduled several non-league debates.

We held dual debates with Charleroi, Monessen, and St. Clairsville. Of these we won four and lost two. We met Mt. Morris twice in dual non-decision debates. All these schools have expressed the desire to continue friendly relations next year. We were not so fortunate in the league debates; however, our affirmative defeated Claysville. The granges before which we appeared were Gretna, Davis, Scenery Hill, Washington, and Buffalo. We have already added to our group the likely prospects for next year. The debaters will participate in the extemporaneous speaking and original oration events in the Washington County Literary Contests.

—CLARA CARLSON.

Band

The band was organized under the direction of Mr. C. C. Caputo, Manager for the C. G. Conn Company. The members of the band at the end of the first four weeks, are as follows:

TRUMPETS
Alberta Vance	Daniel Morford	George Gafrie
Howard Lusk	Stewart Dague	Robert Lacock
Frank Reynolds	Verner Gayvert	Gaylord White
FRANK MARTINCHECK
CLARINETS
Homer Shaw	John Porter	Jack Baker
Jane Moore	Donald Emerick	John Bartusick
	Albert Garrone
ALTO SAXAPHONES
Lorena Beatty	Murray Curran	John Hinerman
Emogene Post	Robert McClay	Carl Kivaczek
Roy Knestrick		Donald Lutes
TROMBONES
John Roberts	John Menhart	Thomas Holub
SOPRANO SAXAPHONE
	Frank Biss
DRUMS
Ross Watson
ALTO HORN
	Kathryn Post

The girls and boys who wished to become members of the band and did not have instruments secured new ones. These persons were then given private lessons twice a week. At the end of the first four weeks the band practiced together for the first time, then gave a free concert. The band played remarkably well for the short time of practice. Trinity expects a successful band in the future.

SPORTS

Gridiron Squad

THOMAS ELLWOOD.....	Head Coach
E. VAUGHN ROSS.....	Assistant Coach
CLEON S. HALLAM.....	Freshman Coach
DORWIN GILLESPIE.....	Senior Manager
WALTER NAWOJ.....	Junior Manager

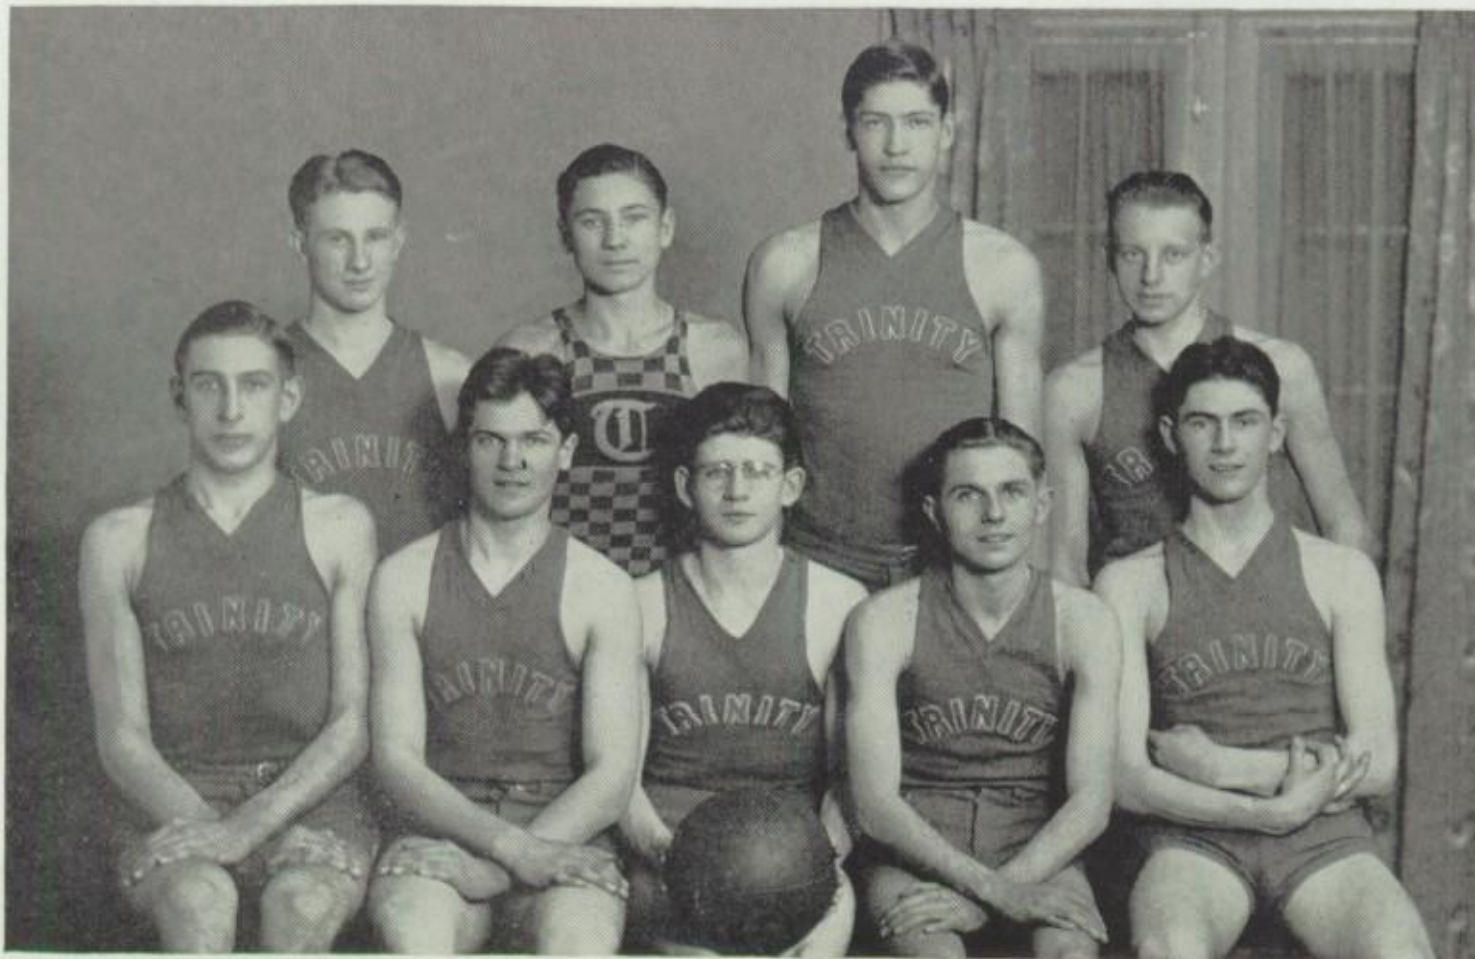

Players—Bednarski, Carpen, Caumo, Clawson, Corsi, Gafric, T. Garbinski, Gotschell, Guzzo, Hughes, Hunt, Jarosik, Kuntz, Libertore, Lynch, Martincheck, Mazza, Ed. McClay, McCool, P. Mosier, J. Sweger, Sweton, Yauch.

The Trinity Reserve football team, under the direction of Coach Ross, gave the varsity many hard fought scrimmage games during the season. The Reserves also played a few games with other teams. They defeated Prosperity High by the score 8 to 6; but later they lost to Alexander A. C. 6 to 0.

Coach Hallam molded together a Freshman football team which gives much promise of valuable material for future varsity teams. Clark School was tied 0 to 0; Wolfdale was defeated 6 to 0; and Blaine Township High School was also tied 6 to 6.

We hope that next year the team will begin where it left off and have a successful football season.

—FRANK MARTINCHECK.

Boys' Basketball Team

The Trinity High School basketball team, under the direction of Coach "Pop" Ellwood, altho not enjoying a very successful season, played and practiced hard and faithfully.

The Blue and White passers began the season in the right way by defeating Hickory on their own floor. This was followed by several close and exciting games with other teams of the section. The "Hillers" then bucked against the teams of the W. P. I. A. L., but with little success. The squad put up a good fight with each team and let the rival teams know they had been playing a game of basketball. The season ended with defeat at the hands of Union High School on the Trinity floor in the W. C. I. A. A. tournament.

Every team of the W. P. I. A. L., and also the other teams that Trinity played were made up of the best material and were not easily defeated.

The varsity squad was composed of the following players: Barney, Bednarski, Earl Dague, Devore, Ganier, Jarosik, Libertore, McCool, Mesta, Sweton, Zelt. The team will lose Bednarski, Ganier, Libertore, and Mesta through graduation.

The rest of the squad is experienced, all having seen service in at least one varsity game. With this material and that from the Reserve team, which had a very successful year, next year's team should have much better success. The boys remaining are all hard workers and all have ability. This should give results.

—JACK GANIER, HARRY MESTA.

Reserve Basketball Team

This group of boys has enjoyed the pleasure of victory many times this season. They look back at an almost perfect record, marred only by two defeats. Having begun the season with a victory over McDonald Reserve quintet they were somewhat disheartened when the Washington High team defeated them. This defeat, however, made them practice with more energy, and soon, under the supervision of Coach "Pop" Ellwood, they became confident and bold. Not one of them loses hope when the opposing team forges ahead of them. Instead they fight harder and when the whistle blows they are usually ahead.

Girls' Basketball Team

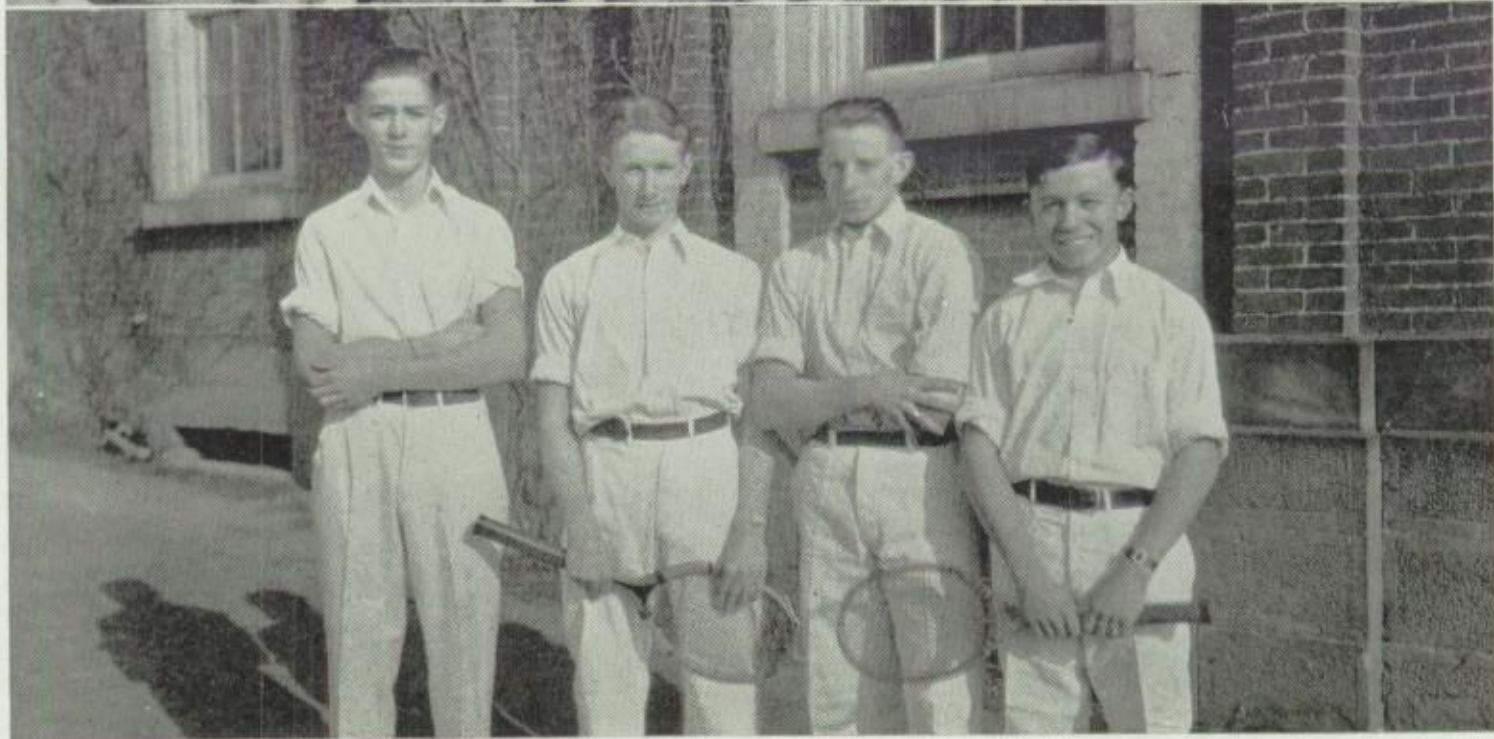

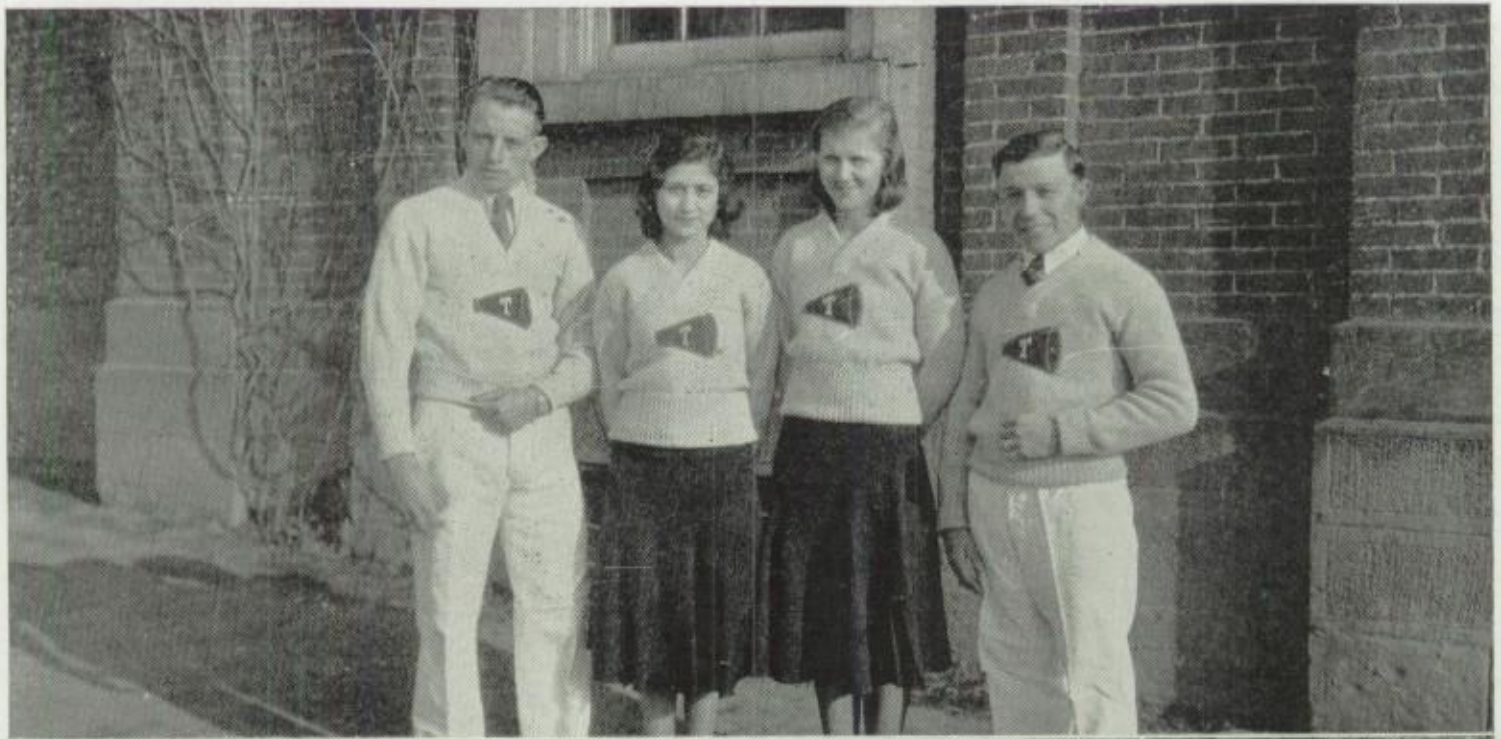

The 1932 season of basketball for the Trinity Lassies was a very successful one. Although the girls had handicaps, such as the injuries of Louise Heatley and Nina Phillips, they won seven games, tied two, and lost four.

Miss Kiblinger worked diligently to make the season a success. The girls under her supervision practiced regularly and did their best to follow instructions. They practiced during Christmas vacation every day, not very hard, but enough so that they would not get out of practice.

It will be a very difficult task next year to fill the vacancies made by the graduation of Nelle Davis, a forward; Louise Heatley, a guard; Esther Fabian, side-center; and a valuable substitute, Frances Herceg.

The Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders of Trinity High School have enjoyed a most successful year. Elected in the midst of the football season, due to the inability of the Donaldson Twins to continue in that activity, they carried on the athletic program with great spirit. The four will graduate this year, leaving memories of their fine work to students of Trinity in after years. The four cheerleaders are: Julia Cimino, Gertrude Renko, Angelo Bonazza, and Harry Mesta. Three cheers for the cheerleaders! Rah! Rah! Rah! Cheerleaders! Cheerleaders! Cheerleaders!

—DORWIN GILLESPIE.

Girls' Reserve Basketball

During the 1932 basketball season Trinity had, in addition to the varsity squad, a reserve squad which met the ninth period three times weekly for practice. This squad was made up principally of Freshmen and Sophomores with a few Juniors. This was for most of the members, their first season out for basketball and our coach, Miss Kiblinger, was very patient with us while teaching us the fundamentals of the game.

We played two games with Parochial High School and one with East Washington High School.

At the end of our game with East Washington, played at the Trinity gymnasium, the score was 7 to 9—Trinity.

Our first game with Parochial High was played on the Parochial floor. At the end of the game the score was 19 to 18—Parochial. Our second game with Parochial High was held on the Trinity floor and we won 26 to 9.

A basketball sports day was held at East Washington High School this year. Our reserve basketball squad was well represented, especially on the Freshman and Sophomore teams.

Some of the members of this squad show considerable skill at the game and will furnish material for the school team in the future, as well as making the game more enjoyable for those of the squad.

—SARA IAMS.

Tennis Team

In the spring of 1931, a tennis team was organized at Trinity High School under the supervision of Mr. E. V. Ross. This sport added a new one to our athletic activities. Five matches were scheduled, but due to wet grounds, several were cancelled. The first match was with Charleroi High School, in which Trinity won by a score of 5 to 2; but later, when we went to Charleroi for the return match, we lost by a score of 4 to 3. A good team is anticipated for this season, and a number of matches will be scheduled with other high school teams. The players and their rank of position on the team of 1931 were as follows:

Harry Mesta, Angelo Bonazza, David Zelt, Albert Graesar, James Martin, John Courson, George Gafric.

—ANGELO BONAZZA.

Track

The Trinity High School track squad for 1931 was successful. As usual the meets were scheduled too late for publication last year. The following members won prizes and honors:

WHEELING—John Yauch (freshman), seventy-yard dash, first; John Hudak (freshman), seventy-yard dash, fourth; John Yauch, John Hudak, Vernor Clawson, Angelo Malone (freshmen), one mile relay, second.

COUNTY—Glenn Manon, broad jump, third; Teddy Garbinski, shot, second; discus, first; Joseph Kisella, 440-yard dash, third; Vernor Clawson, high jump, fourth.

BURGETTSTOWN—John Yauch 100-yard dash, second; Glenn Manon, high jump, first; low hurdles, second; high hurdles, first; Teddy Garbinski, discus, second; Garbinski, Lynch, Kisella, Yauch, 880-yard relay second.

WAYNESBURG—John Yauch, 100-yard dash, second; Lester Lynch, 220-yard dash, second; Glenn Manon, low hurdles, second; high hurdles, second; high jump, first; Teddy Garbinski, shot, second; discus, first; David Zelt, pole vault, third; Joseph Kisella, 440-yard run, second; Vernor Clawson, mile, third.

Trinity's Baseball Team

If any one wanted some real entertainment, he should have come to see Trinity's baseball team in action.

Let me introduce our team. The three outfield positions were held by John Cimino, Maynard Lacock, and Edward Hufford—all members of the class of '31. The infield was complete with the following: Cary behind the bat, Robb or Lynch on the mound, Bednarski or Pollack at shortstop, Carlisle or Robb at second, and James Fulton at first base.

Most of our last season veterans have completed their four-year course at Trinity, and have gone forth into the world to make a name for themselves there.

This handicap leaves various positions obtainable for the 1932 season for those who are interested.

Nevertheless, this small band, already mentioned, set out to defeat other high school teams.

"Pop" Ellwood, our coach, selected Claysville as our first opponent. We met our foe, and defeated them 15-8. The next Friday we hurled ourselves against California High School, defeating them 15-9. Our next foe was Waynesburg. We had little trouble defeating them.

Turn about is fair play. We went to Claysville and were defeated 6-5, in the eleventh inning. We lost the return game with California because of their poorly constructed diamond. Canonsburg asked for a game. We played them, but were defeated.

Trinity is looking forward to a successful season this spring, and Arthur Cooper promises the fans some real entertainment.

Literary

Washington's Farewell Address

THE unity of government which constitutes you one people is also now dear to you. It is justly so, for it is a main pillar in the edifice of your real independence; the support of your tranquility at home, your peace abroad; of your safety; of your prosperity; of that very liberty which you so highly prize. But as it is easy to foresee that from different causes and from different quarters much pains will be taken, many artifices employed, to weaken in your minds the conviction of this truth; as this is the point in your political fortress against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be most constantly and actively (tho often covertly and insidiously) directed, it is of infinite moment that you should properly estimate the immense value of your national Union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as the palladium of your political safety and prosperity; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenancing whatever may suggest even a suspicion that it can in any event be abandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts.

For this you have every inducement of sympathy and of interest. Citizens, either by birth or choice, of a common country, that country has a right to concentrate your affections. The name of AMERICAN which belongs to you in your national capacity must always exalt the just pride of patriotism more than any appellation derived from local discriminations.

—WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS.

Washington

On the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, it is fitting that in every undertaking where possible, honor and credit should be given to the man who, through his efforts, made possible the establishment of this great nation.

George Washington owned a tract of 2,813 acres of land in what is now known as Mount Pleasant Township, which was patented to him by the Governor of the Colony of Virginia, on July 5, 1774. This land is now divided into many farms. Some of the descendants of the early owners of these farms claim that their ancestors purchased the land from Colonel Washington. But as a matter of fact, the record in the Washington County Recorder's office shows that only one deed was made and this was to Matthew Ritchie on June 1, 1796, for the entire tract. It was then divided and later owners received their deeds from other persons.

General George Washington made many visits to this county. He journeyed through Western Pennsylvania in 1753 and again in 1755. In the fall of 1784, he came to this county and inspected his land. He crossed the Monongahela river, at Monongahela City and at Hamilton, about four miles from that place, and then stopped for the night with Colonel Canon at Canonsburg. Local tradition states that the house in which he was entertained stood near the present old mill of the Canonsburg Milling Company in Canonsburg.

Senior Class Prophecy

Class of '32

*"The Present still is echo of the Past:
Of both the Future will an echo be."*

IN our quest of prophecy, may we follow in the footsteps of Sir Launfal, thus: "Slowly Sir Launfal's eyes grew dim; Slumber fell like a cloud on him; And into his mind the vision flew."

Giving free reign to your imagination, let us be conveyed a dozen years hence, traveling through the land of Things Yet to Be, hoping, by chance, to meet some of the members of the Class of '32.

From the lofty skies, we can view a beautiful landscape, . . . in fact, the "Garden Spot of the World." Upon asking, we find it is the accomplishment of Trinity's agricultural specialists: Bryce, Berry, Dague, Doak, Hunter, Janovich, Lusk, and Walter Hazlett.

We land in a beautiful city, upon the main street of which are several shops and places of business. On some of them we recognize names, as:—Beauty Culturists, Murray and Morningstar; Modistes, Maxwell and Sims; General Mechanical Work, John Sweger and Carl Hartley; Pharmacist, Joe Ely; Local Marine Agent, William Hughes; Expert Accountants, Crumrine and Mesta; A Music Studio, where lessons are given on the piano by Weirich, on the violin by Pattison, vocal by Opal Dague, and all other instruments by Paul Mosier.

Passing numerous offices, banks, and other places of business requiring bookkeepers, stenographers, and private secretaries, we recognize familiar faces, including: Amos, Birch, Chappel, Carroll, Cramer, Ermacoff, Hudak, Herceg, Krulce, Minton, McCalmont, Smrekar, Rose Devore and Alma Foster.

Our attention suddenly shifts to a research laboratory, where we hear cries of "Eureka! At Last!" Etc. Upon entering, we find Garrone, Curran, and Robert McClay, grouped around their new invention in the electrical radio field, while Bawell, the chemist, has revolutionized chemistry with his bottles, tubes and flasks.

In a quiet part of the city, we find the school children progressing rapidly under the supervision of their teachers: Helen Ferralli, Edith Foster, Mae Heller, Mabel Hartley, Hazel Moore, Dorothy Kerns and Velma Bowman, the teacher of home economics, whose slogan is, "The way to win a man is through his stomach."

From the rear door of the hospital, there emerges a man with a sad, disappointed look on his face; it is Ben Miller, the undertaker.

All Hail! famous actress and actor coming to town: Cimino and Mazza in "The Age of Youth," accompanied by the dancer, Renko. Adventurer Kuntz finds the Fountain of Youth. Sweger's masterpiece placed in famous art gallery.

Society: Jane Moore pronounced our best housewife. Home from college: Phillips, Shrontz, Vaughan, Woods and Albert Mosier.

—EUNICE THOMPSON, IRWIN KNOX.

Senior Class Will

SINCE each class before us has left its talents to the underclassmen, we, the Seniors of '32, feel that we, too, should bequeath the talents which we possess. We feel that each one of us has talent that, if given to an underclassman, will help the Trinity tradition to be carried to new heights. Therefore, we wish to bestow upon those worthy the following bequests:

Our jovial, loving president, Clair Hamilton, leaves to Frank Martin-check his ability to lead.

Bednarski, Garbinski, Kuntz and Ed. McClay will their football skill and their spirit of good sportsmanship to the varsity of '33.

Stewart Dague leaves his right to protect and entertain Jane Fowler to some worthy Junior.

Herbert Hazlett leaves his title of "Champion Jaw-breaker Eater" to Rodney Hunt and Ed Spiegel, because we believe one could not consume a sufficient quantity to be worthy of the championship.

Art Brice and Pete Janovich, "the silent partners," gladly bestow this title on Robert Lacock and Kendall Johnson.

Jack Ganier warns Pete Meyers to beware of the high curb near the Wolfdale schoolhouse.

Jennie Hlavacek and Eunice Thompson give Clara Carlson and Louella Galley their ability to make perfect papers in English tests.

Joe Kuntz, official speaker in the Hi-Y, leaves his position to "Shorty" Gafric.

The triumverate—Bash, Mitchell and Phillips—bequeath this title to Markow, Mazur and Brownlee and wish them the same friendship that enfolds themselves.

Our cheerleaders—Bonazza, Renko, Mesta and Cimino—will their cheerleading ability to the four who are the most active and have the best lungs.

Davis, Heatley, Fabian and Herceg bequeath their basketball skill and their "never-say-die" spirit to the varsity of '33 and wish it all the luck in the world.

Dorwin Gillespie wills Robert Jeffers his dominating power over the girls.

William Jackson leaves his simpleness to any one who can act funny.

Gladys Birch, Rose Devore, Mabel Hartley, and Helen Ferralli leave their quietness to Post, Breese, Porter, and Pratt.

Velma Bowman leaves her curling machine to some Junior who likes curly hair.

Mary Ferguson leaves her nickname, "Shorty," to Earl Dague.

Crumrine, Garrone, and Curran, the expert musicians, want to will their talent to the new Trinity Band.

Thelma Amos and Mae Heller, who get their lessons in partnership, will give their secret to any one who calls and proves himself in need of an assistant.

Alma Foster, aunt of our "Little Edith," will give some "Aunty" advice to any young aunt in the lower classes.

Emma Hudak, Zelma Cramer, and Florence Carroll warn Sophomores not to go to business college in the morning because it is hard to answer questions about tests asked by afternoon students.

The Faculty Football Game

(Say, is this true?)

The game was played on Sunday
In Mr. John's backyard,
With Gordon playing full-back
And Hallam playing guard.

Ford played at center
And played it very fine,
While Ryburn was the half-back,
And he sure did hit the line.

"Pop" Ellwood was the quarter-back
With strenuous voice and loud;
Cooper was the referee, and
He sure kept back the crowd.

Paul Day played at left-end
And E. Day played at right.
The way they ran thru with the ball—
It was an awful sight.

Powers was the tackle,
And he played very well.
He broke up all the plunges,
And rushed right in, pell-mell.

Vaughn Ross was the other half,
Tall and spare was he;
He was so very tall in fact,
He stepped on the referee.

The game was played by quarters;
Trinity won the game.
All the students were delighted as
It gave them extra fame.

We thank you very kindly
For reading this poem thru.
We hope that every other,
Will like it as well as you.

—JOHN and GEORGE SWEGER.

Junior Class History

ON the third day of September, 1929, we first began our high school career. The system was a much complicated one to us and being "fresh" from grammar school, we suffered much embarrassment from upper classmen, who usually made us the butt of ridicule. As weeks wore on, however, this practice lessened gradually and was finally abandoned. During this interval of calm we quickly adjusted ourselves to the new mode of living. Before long we offered competition to upper classes, and, after a few triumphs later, we saw, with unconcealed pride, that the other classes regarded us as a dangerous rival.

The following year found us again at our post of duty. The folly of idleness dawned upon us and we resolved not to blunder. Our past experience had given us a greater sense of security (even the Seniors seemed to have lost their monarchic statures). Thus, when we entered this period of educational conquest we lost no time dallying, but lunged directly at our waiting opponent and grappled. It was a silent but titanic struggle for mastery—one that reckoned with our highest state of mental ability. Time and again our slow advance was checked and our goal lost to us, but always we clung to our endless task. At last, weary and exhausted, but carrying with us a portion of the prize, we retired to enjoy a three-month separation from further study.

The opening of the new term brings us together once more with a much greater feeling of comradeship. For the past two years we have been conscious of a smouldering desire—one that awakened ambition. Now, feeling fairly well satisfied with our record in class competition, and depending on our present knowledge for sound judgment, we turn our thoughts into a different channel—our future. With thought we give these years to constant study, for when the proper moment presents itself, we mean to reap our reward.

—ANDY SANDOR.

Latin Pageant

A most pleasing and colorful pageant, "The Spirit of Ancient Rome," was staged by the Latin department, April 19th, under the direction of Miss Adams and Miss Day. The story centered around the "Spirit of the Present" and "Mother Rome," who called as their witnesses, first the Romance Languages: France, Spain, Italy, Portugal and Roumania, and second the English Language: Classics, English Grammar, Spelling, Unchanged Words, New Words, and Root Words. Each character explained how Latin was important to him.

The second part of the program was a short play entitled, "What's the Use?" In it was shown the usefulness of Latin to the school boy.

The musical part of the entertainment consisted of solos sung in French and Spanish, and a duet sung in Italian. The program closed with two songs, "America" and "Alma Mater," sung in Latin by the groups.

The purpose of the program was to show the value and helpfulness of Latin. In these days it is difficult to be really educated or intelligent without a knowledge of Latin. I believe we can truly say of Latin that "her children are legion and she will live forever."

Donald B. Gantz

Donald B. Gantz, class of 1930, represented the State Association of the Future Farmers of America at their Fourth National Convention in Kansas City, Missouri. The delegates from the other states elected him to the office of Vice President of the national organization, and granted him the degree of American Farmer.

Donald was also appointed a member of the Executive Committee of the National Board of Trustees, and in that capacity attended the spring meeting at Washington, D. C. While attending this meeting he was heard over the network of the National Broadcasting Company.

Gantz, as one of the national officers, will attend the Fifth National Convention in Kansas City this October.

The Importance of a Motto

"Study, strive, and succeed,"—
A motto we all should heed,
The motto of the wondrous class,
That from this school is about to pass,
And who, in all the future years,
In times of sorrow, joys, and fears,
Will always bear in mind the thought,
Of all the classmates who have sought
To follow out this motto bright,
And travel only in paths of right.

"Study, strive, and succeed,"—
Let this guide us in every deed;
Let it mark each step in our climb to success,
As onward and upward this grade we press.
If the heights be rugged and the path be rough,
Then remember this motto and don't give up,
But struggle upward and onward without any rest,
Until at last we stand on the crest,
And then, looking back over every deed,
Remember the motto, "Study, strive, and succeed."

Sales Drive for the Olympus

The sales "drive" for the OLYMPUS last year was so successful, it was deemed wise to conduct a similar one this year. Accordingly, April 18, 19 and 20 were designated as the days and the work began. Of course there was some rivalry between certain rooms, although no prizes were offered. The "depression" alibi threatened to hinder results, but this year's book being a special Alumni Edition, the field for canvass was larger.

Below is the schedule of classes, report rooms, quotas, and sales:

Assembly Programs

At Mr. Gordon's suggestion, each of the several departments of the school presented a program in the gymnasium at assembly. Some of the industrious went so far as to write plays. In this record we note also some programs given by visitors at assembly.

October 1st—Today we had a magician who was in assembly last week just to exhibit some of his tricks.

November 10th—Today everybody was interested to know who comprised our debating team. This was the first try-out. The debaters: Clara Carlson and Irwin Knox.

November 25th—The first play was presented by the French classes. It was directed by our French teacher, Miss McKean.

December 3rd—Today we heard a lecture by Dr. Bingham, on the subject of leading a straight and perfect life.

January 1st—A musical program by our chorus. It is now a large class, constantly improving through hard effort.

January 8th—This time we had an exhibition presented by the Vocational Agriculture Department. It was a preparatory demonstration for the coming Vocational Contest at Harrisburg.

February 2nd—Another lecture on South America by Mr. Simpson, an explorer. The story of his adventures included the West Coast of Peru, over the Andes, into the Amazon jungles, and to the Atlantic Ocean.

February 5th—A musical program: Recco Luppino, of Washington, and two other musicians, who entertained us with their violins.

February 12th—Abraham Lincoln's birthday, but not a Lincoln play. It was written and acted by the Juniors of the American History classes. The playwright was Ann Korobushkin. It was a play concerning Aaron Burr and his early experiences in life.

February 22nd—This was George Washington's birthday and the first day of the great bicentennial celebration. The play was acted and written by the Senior class. The playwright of this play was Jean Bash. The old dances and costumes were very interesting.

March 4th—A play performed by the Girl Reserves under the title, "Wanted—A Husband." All parts were acted by the girls. The excited talk and actions made the play very humorous.

March 23rd—A play given by the "T" Club, "Stuffed Owls," dealing with "quick rich" society folks, who appeared very wealthy and cultured.

April 1st—A play given by the Go-to-College Club. It is a play about preparing to receive a guest. A number of the Go-to-College Club girls impersonated the faculty, as an April Fool event. Those who represented the faculty members, mostly were dressed in men's clothing. They performed the characteristics and motions as well as the talks before the assembly, all of which were very funny.

April 5th—A concert given by our band, organized four weeks ago by persons representing the Conn make of instruments. Marvelous progress was made within four weeks. A number of pieces were played which gave evidence that a real band was organized.

ALUMNI

Alumni Officers

KENNETH GILMORE, '28.....	President
J. ARLEIGH JOHN, '25.....	Vice President
SARAH HAMILTON, '24.....	Secretary
BEATRICE MARKLEY, '24.....	Treasurer

The above persons were elected officers of the Alumni Association at a meeting held last September. We feel that participation in the publication of this year book is a happy step forward in alumni co-operation. A further step planned for this year is formal recognition of the June class as members at a reception during the commencement season.

ALUMNI ISSUE

The purpose of this issue of the OLYMPUS is to further the friendly relations already existing between the various alumni by telling of the whereabouts and occupation, so far as is known, of every student who ever graduated from Trinity. Instead of putting in only the pictures and name-list, as has been done heretofore, we have collected data concerning each one and have put it in this space. The plan is to do this once every four years, or once in each series of four issues of THE OLYMPUS. One series of four has just been completed and this is the first issue in the second series. In the next three issues the pictures and name-lists only will be printed. We are trying this plan this year to see if it meets with the approval of the Alumni and if so it will be carried out in the future. As the number of alumni increases, the plan—that the pictures will run in rotation, thus leaving some groups out one year but others another year—will be followed.

The Staff is grateful for the co-operation shown by the alumni in the preparation of this number of THE OLYMPUS. In spite of an honest effort to gain information concerning each and every one of the alumni there were some about whom little of information could be gained.

—JOSEPH ELY, Editor-in-Chief.

THE CLASS OF 1924

The Class of 1924 is peculiarly distinguished from the other classes of Trinity in the fact that it was the first to receive its diplomas from that institution. Raymond Munce, who was vice president at the time of graduation, died about a year later. Francis and Sydney Wells, who were class artists, died within two years of each other.

Those who have joined the ranks of matrimony are: Helen Bluebaugh Evans, Madge Dunn Swihart, Gladys Ihrig Crispin, Virginia Keeney McMurray, Jennie Munce Mackey, Madeline Rogers Conners, Thelma Winnett Phelan, Marcus Hazlett, Emmett McCollum, Walfred Nichols, E. Vaughn Ross, Ivan Sargent, Russell Stewart, Albert Strawn. Latest information we have for Albert is that he is chauffeur for one of the several bus lines plying between Washington and other points. Emmett McCollum does general hauling.

Those who have entered the field of teaching are: Helen Bedillion, McKees Rocks; Eva Daily, Canton Township; Sara Hamilton, Somerset Township; Beatrice Markley, Chartiers Township; Jennie Munce Mackey, North Strabane Township; Marcus Hazlett, Director of Physical Education, Canonsburg High School; Paul Jones, Director of Physical Education, Forest Hills, Pittsburgh; E. Vaughn Ross, History and Civics, Trinity High School; Ivan Sargent, Mathematics, Washington High School.

Mildred Brice is "food checker" on the Great Lakes Steamship Line from Cleveland to Detroit.

Helen Crosby is employed in the office of McCollum Transfer & Storage Company.

Esther Nichols is in the local office of the Bell Telephone Company.

Walter Fowler is Second Lieutenant in the Headquarters Company and is employed at a local filling station.

Walter Hawkinson, after having graduated with high honor from Washington and Jefferson College, attended Johns Hopkins. He is at home at present.

The rest of the class, namely, Ralph Caldwell, Lloyd Clark, John Hunter, Daniel Lytle and Walter Snyder are all following their different occupations. (I am not in possession of absolute late information).

We, the Class of '24, affectionately remember our High School days and hope that in the future Trinity may prosper as much, accordingly, as she has in the past years of her short existence.

—BEATRICE ("Bee") MARKLEY.

CLASS OF 1925

The members of the Class of 1925 are doing their bit to uphold the name of Trinity and to increase her fame by their accomplishments. The majority of our thirty-eight members have chosen the teaching profession as their field of endeavor. At present there are fifteen of us teaching. Five are in Canton Township: Evelyn Conger and Margaret Fritschle at Hayes Avenue, Sarah Keefe at Scottdale, Mary Pence at Wylie Avenue, and Helga Nichols at Wolfdale. Verna Clemens and Madge John are teaching at Lincoln Hill, Josephine LeNassi at Moninger, Chartiers Township; and Frances Riggle at the new consolidated school in Somerset Township. Edith Beck is at Manifold and has been elected principal for the coming year. Jesse Hagar is principal at Hills Station,

Cecil Township. Four others are in high school work: Floyd Hootman at Bentleyville, Clair Taggart at Avella, Arleigh John at Trinity, while Donald Rexrode is supervisor of vocational agriculture at Mifflinberg, Pa. Others who have taught are George Dunn, Gertrude Filby, Myrtle John, Opal Keefe, Arthur and Elizabeth Markley, Mazie McCollister, Ernest Myers, and Mae Piatt.

Twelve of our number are graduates of higher institutions of learning: George Dunn of California; Verna Clemens, Evelyn Conger, and Josephine LeNassi of Indiana; Donald Rexrode of Penn State College; Malcolm Hazlett of Columbia University; Bernard Day, Floyd Hootman, Arleigh John, Ernest Myers and Clair Taggart of Washington and Jefferson College.

To the best of our knowledge, thirteen members of our class have married since graduation, namely, Mary Crosbie, Olive and Gertrude Filby, Floyd Hootman, Myrtle John, Opal Keefe, Kendall Lewis, Elizabeth and Arthur Markley, Catherine McDonough, Mae Piatt, Elizabeth Reynolds and Clair Taggart.

Wilbur Elliott is the one of our number who has traveled extensively, having been in Europe last summer, and is now located in San Francisco. Kendall Lewis is a salesman for the Bell Telephone Company. Arthur Johnson is in business with his father at Eighty-Four. Herman Kendall took up aviation and is located somewhere in the South. Bernard Ward and Paul Garrett are working for the Hazel-Atlas Glass Company. Mary Crosbie Payden, whose husband died about a year ago, still lives in Columbus. Bernard Day is selling automobiles for A. McConaughey. Arthur Markley has the distinction of being the only one of our class to become a minister. Malcolm Hazlett holds a responsible position with the Kress Stores Company in New York City. Stephen Kuzy divides his time between business and sports. Steve coached an independent football team last fall.

We regret being unable to gain any information about Joseph Anderson and would appreciate any word from him or concerning him.

—J. ARLEIGH JOHN.

CLASS OF 1926

The spring of 1926 forty-five young men and women graduated from Trinity High School. Most of these are still in the vicinity of Washington, while a few have traveled far in pursuit of their chosen professions.

Nine members of the class are now teachers: Lucille Blake, Elizabeth and Louise Gartley, Katherine Korobushkin, Gertrude McClay, Grace McLoney, Lillian McKahan, Marian Paul, and Floyd Shaw. These instructors have acquired their teacher's training course at various well known institutions: Indiana Normal, California Normal, Penn State, and Washington and Jefferson College. Three others who desired to teach, but later changed their vocations, are Lucille Dunn, Helen Messenger, and Fred Lightner. Virginia Fowler, now deceased, was also a very promising instructor.

W. & J. attracted three members of the class who are not teachers: Franklin Barbour and Mario Luciano were in the local institution two or more years; John Hana graduated from W. & J. in 1930.

Other educational institutions now represented by our class are Wooster College, Carnegie Tech, the Washington Hospital, and Penn

State. Hugh Berry, the Wooster graduate, is now in a commercial school in Pittsburgh. The author of this brief review attended Carnegie Night School for five years. Dorothy Weirich and Rachel McCrery are now graduate nurses. Frank McCullough attended the Penn State College one year and then went to Irvine, California, where he is now in office work for an oil company. Allan McCullough, having worked three years with the West Penn Power Company, is completing his course at Penn State. Clara Bedillion is attending Georgia State College for Women, Millageville, Ga.

Other members of the class now occupied in this community, are Franklin Barbour, Ruth Driehorst, John Hana, with WNBO, Roy Hart, Edwin Johnson, Fredrick Martin, Kenneth McCrory, Margaret Moore, Stewart Paxton, Charles Scott, John Ward, John Welsh, and Glenn Bedillion.

William Kutzer, for a long time at the George Washington Hotel, is now in Pittsburgh. Jean Lobingier made a trip to Los Angeles and is now in Tucson, Arizona. Jean Titus, for some time in business in Washington, has recently moved over toward Wheeling.

Out of this class of forty-five, Dan Cupid has taken his toll. Thirteen members have joined their companions in life. There are Letha Barney, Susan Boone, John Hana, Catherine Humbert, Fred Lightner, Mario Luciano, Rachel McCrery, Helen Messenger, Charles Scott, Nina Sefton, Alice Wise, Opal Swart, and Faye Swart.

William Wallace is deserving of the place of honor in our class. He is a member of the United States Pacific Coast Guards and has received honorable mention from President Hoover for his distinguished service. The summer of '31 he was with the Bering Sea Patrol and had many interesting experiences in Alaska. San Francisco is his present headquarters.

—HAROLD WEIRICH.

CLASS OF 1927

The Class of 1927 is doing its part to hold up and carry the name of Trinity out into the world. A few of our number have gone on to higher education, while others have started on their careers. Several have married, others have drifted away, until now the class is very widely separated.

Among those still in school we find Nelson Fattman, who is attending a Theological Seminary in Philadelphia; Howard Wilson at Thiel, and Floyd Vance at Washington and Jefferson College.

Those who are teaching are: Elizabeth Phillips, grades, Wylie Avenue; Hilda McClay, grades, Hayes Avenue; Margaret Day, grades, Midland; Irena Bonham, grades, Cross Roads School; Mary Doak, grades, Verona, near Pittsburgh; Freda Myers, high school; James Moninger, Algebra and General Science, Trinity High School. He married Mary Knestrick, ex-1931.

Two of the class, Bernice Hillberry and Joanna Zelt, have been graduated as nurses from the Washington Hospital.

James Bane is employed by the State Highway Department, is married, and lives in Washington. Edwin Boone is employed by the West Penn Power Company. Robert Brown has taken up electrical work, is married, and lives in Boston. Morgan Carter is the manager of an orchestra called Carter's Dixie Boys.

Mabel Charlton Sanders, married in August, 1931, lives in her own home in Laboratory, and is employed as a stenographer.

James Courson is employed by the Caldwell Store, Inc. in Washington.

Max Hagar has gone West, but his exact location is not known.

William Holzapfel is employed by the State Highway Department, is married, and lives in Washington.

Jack Hurley is married and lives in Cincinnati where he is employed.

Homer Lewis is working for the Bell Telephone Company in the District of Erie, Pennsylvania.

Raymond Plants is an interne at Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Kenneth Rexrode is still pursuing aviation and has secured his commercial license.

The following are married and are living at or near their former homes: Mildred Dunn Rankin, Pearl Hart Varner, Lewis Horne, Dorothy McClay Mounts, Mary McKee Curran, Leroy Prigg, Vivian Smith Sayre, Gladys Truby Myers, Ellen Ward Gromo, Henry Ward, Evelyn Wilson Lattimore.

Wilma Hootman Remagen lives in Cleveland, O.

Leona Sefton is married.

The following class members have remained at home farming or are otherwise occupied: Russell Durbin, William Hawkinson, who graduated from W. & J. in 1931, Lyndon Roach, John Tucker, Alvena and Kathleen Winters, and James Ulery.

So far as I have been able to learn, Mary Marra is in office work in Pittsburgh, and George Bristor is employed in Washington. I have no definite knowledge of Christine Armstrong, Elsie Keefe, Havel Kilgore, and Irene Supler. I am under the impression, however, that Elsie Keefe and Irene Supler are teaching.

—JAMES MONINGER.

CLASS OF 1928

The class of 1928 to the OLYMPUS Staff of 1932, Greetings. It will be remembered we are the first Senior class to share in the publication of a Trinity year book, and the first editor-in-chief was W. J. Burch.

The college people are: Kenneth Ballentine, Muskingum College, graduates in June, 1932.

John Bristor attended Waynesburg one year, but is now at home.

Kenneth Gilmore attended W. & J. College one year and Waynesburg College one year. He is employed as night clerk by the George Washington Hotel Company.

Hazel Hamilton attended Washington Seminary on a scholarship, won for high grades, and is now at home.

Henry Luciano is attending the University of Pittsburgh.

Andrew Milavec is also at the University of Pittsburgh.

Donald Mounts is at Washington and Jefferson College, this city.

Glenn Reed took a course at Penn State Commercial College and is now employed by the Brokerage Firm of Mitchell & Craft.

Wilbur Rexrode was a student at the University of West Virginia for one year. In 1931 he married Ruth Miller, '31, and they are living at Amity.

Laban Wardle, Trinity's basketball wonder, has won laurels in football as well. He graduates from Thiel College this coming June, and it is rumored that, on graduation, he will be made Assistant Director of Athletics and Instructor of Physical Education in that institution. He is a versatile athlete. He was named all tri-state quarterback in his junior year.

Josephine Reynolds is a graduate nurse and is now employed as a "special" at the Hillview Sanitarium, Washington.

Norman Chelquist has continued his liking for the stage, and when last we heard direct from him (August, 1931) he was studying his profession in New York City. He had already appeared in certain plays in minor parts.

Among those working are:

Laverne Barney, at the local Hazel-Atlas Glass Company.

Dorothy Bristor, at the local Murphy Corporation.

Inez Cole, with the Washington Observer and Reporter Company.

Lena Mae Cramer, stenographer with Westinghouse, Mansfield, O.

Naomi Crowe, at a Home or Hospital for children, in Pittsburgh.

Alice Dunn, stenographer at the Jessop Steel Mill, lives at home, at Duvall Station.

Jane Lytle is working for the Canonsburg Daily News and living at home in Meadowlands.

Aldine Miller works in Murphy's Dollar Store, Washington.

Josephine Paul, in an A. & P. store, this city.

Francis Seaman is employed by the Gulf Refining Company of Washington.

Catherine Sweger is with the Washington Observer and Reporter Company, city.

Cupid began his archery at an early date among my classmates and the toll to date is: Margaret Allison Taggart (Clair Taggart, '25), home at Buffalo; Geraldine Blank, at home, husband's name not known; Josephine Bristor Baker married Omar Baker, who has since died. Josephine has married again, and now is Josephine Bristor Baker Elder, husband works in a garage; W. J. Burch married Beatrice Thompson, '28, and is now employed by the Bell Telephone Company; Glenn Clarke married Ruth Cox, '29; Elizabeth Conger Jones (Kenneth Jones, '29), Amity; Mary Gray Jefferies is living near Washington; Mildred Coffey, husband's name unknown. Permelia Gantz John lives with her people; Anna Hart married a farmer, name not learned; Mildred Henderson Sybol lives in West End, husband is a mill worker; Irene McClelland Polan lives at the water dam, husband a farmer; Martin Polan, farmer, married Irene McClelland, '28; Maudeline Prigg McQuay lives in Washington, husband a farmer; Beatrice Thompson Burch (W. J. Burch, '28); John Thompson, married, is living at his home; Madlyn Vandever Bebout lives with her people.

Staying at home are: Norman Bedillion, Hilda Creighton, Virginia DeNormandie, Hilda Gray, Elva Sandy, and Wallace Winnett. Jane Hughes also is home assisting her mother in the conducting of an eating house.

—KENNETH GILMORE.

THE CLASS OF 1929

In the year nineteen hundred twenty-nine there was graduated from Trinity High School a very outstanding group of young men and women—seventy-nine in number.

Nineteen of our classmates have set sail on the sea of matrimony. These nineteen are: Elizabeth Berry Van Kirk, Edward Bridges, Ruth Cox Clarke, Thelma Fonner, Freeman Frazee, Reed Haney, Anna Harter, Mildred Hillberry Hull, Alyce Hiller, Kenneth Jones, Dwight Lacock, Everet Lutes, Ethel Merritt, Edith Messenger, Flossie Moore, Margaret Robinson Tolan, Ola Van Kirk Laws, Wade Van Kirk, Catherine Varner Draucker. Catherine and Ola live at Point Lookout.

Late in the summer of nineteen thirty-one, the officers of the class arranged that they come together, and so they did on September 12th.

Those who have continued formal study are: Lawrence Boone, Albert Houston, and Evelyn Vaughan at California State Teachers College; Emily Fife, at Muskingum College; Juanita Minton, Washington Seminary; Charles Morrison and David McClay, Penn State College; Adam Di Vincenzo, Duquesne University; Robert Wylie, Washington and Jefferson College.

Verbal Buchanan, Mary Post, and Mary Scott, graduates of Indiana State Teachers College, are now teaching.

Sara Neill is in training at the Allegheny General Hospital; Ruth Chivers, at the Washington Hospital; Loretta Gorby, telephone operator at the latter place.

Of the group going to Business College, seven are stenographers: Mary Bainer, Freda Ferrell, Freda Hootman, Florence Jenkins, Martha Lacock, Edyth Tucker, and Dixie Weirich. Esther Markley was graduated from Penn State Business College. Edith Tucker is secretary at the Blue Ridge bus office on East Maiden Street.

David Anderson is working at the laboratory of the Jessop Steel Co. Ira Lacock is an accountant in Harrisburg. Mildred Beech is giving music lessons at her home. Howard Breese is a rural mail carrier.

Russell Bedillion, Margaret Gardner, Richard Hana, Olive Hart, Ora Hill, Forrest John, Kenneth Lutes, Edith Moten, Hultz Munce, Olive Pattison, Harriet Paul, Orville Paxton, Rose and Sarah Petrone, Gladys Riggle, Lelah Stewart, George Tannehill, and Samuel Wells are all, to the best of our knowledge, at their respective homes doing whatever work they can find to do. Hervey Hazlett, attended Washington and Jefferson College for a year or two, but is now at home. George Brice is working at Walker's dairy.

Park Henry and James McKee are working in garages in Washington. James Costello is boxing and playing professional football in Ohio. Horace Fulton and Paul Morgan are both working for the West Penn Power Co. James McCormick is with the Columbia Gas Company in Pittsburgh. Harry McKee is file clerk for the Reliance Life Insurance Company in Pittsburgh.

Emerson Horn is employed by the Ross Independent Oil Company. Ross Scott is driving a truck for Fred's Meat Market of Washington. Olive Pattison and Alice Van Kirk are employed in five and ten cent stores of Washington.

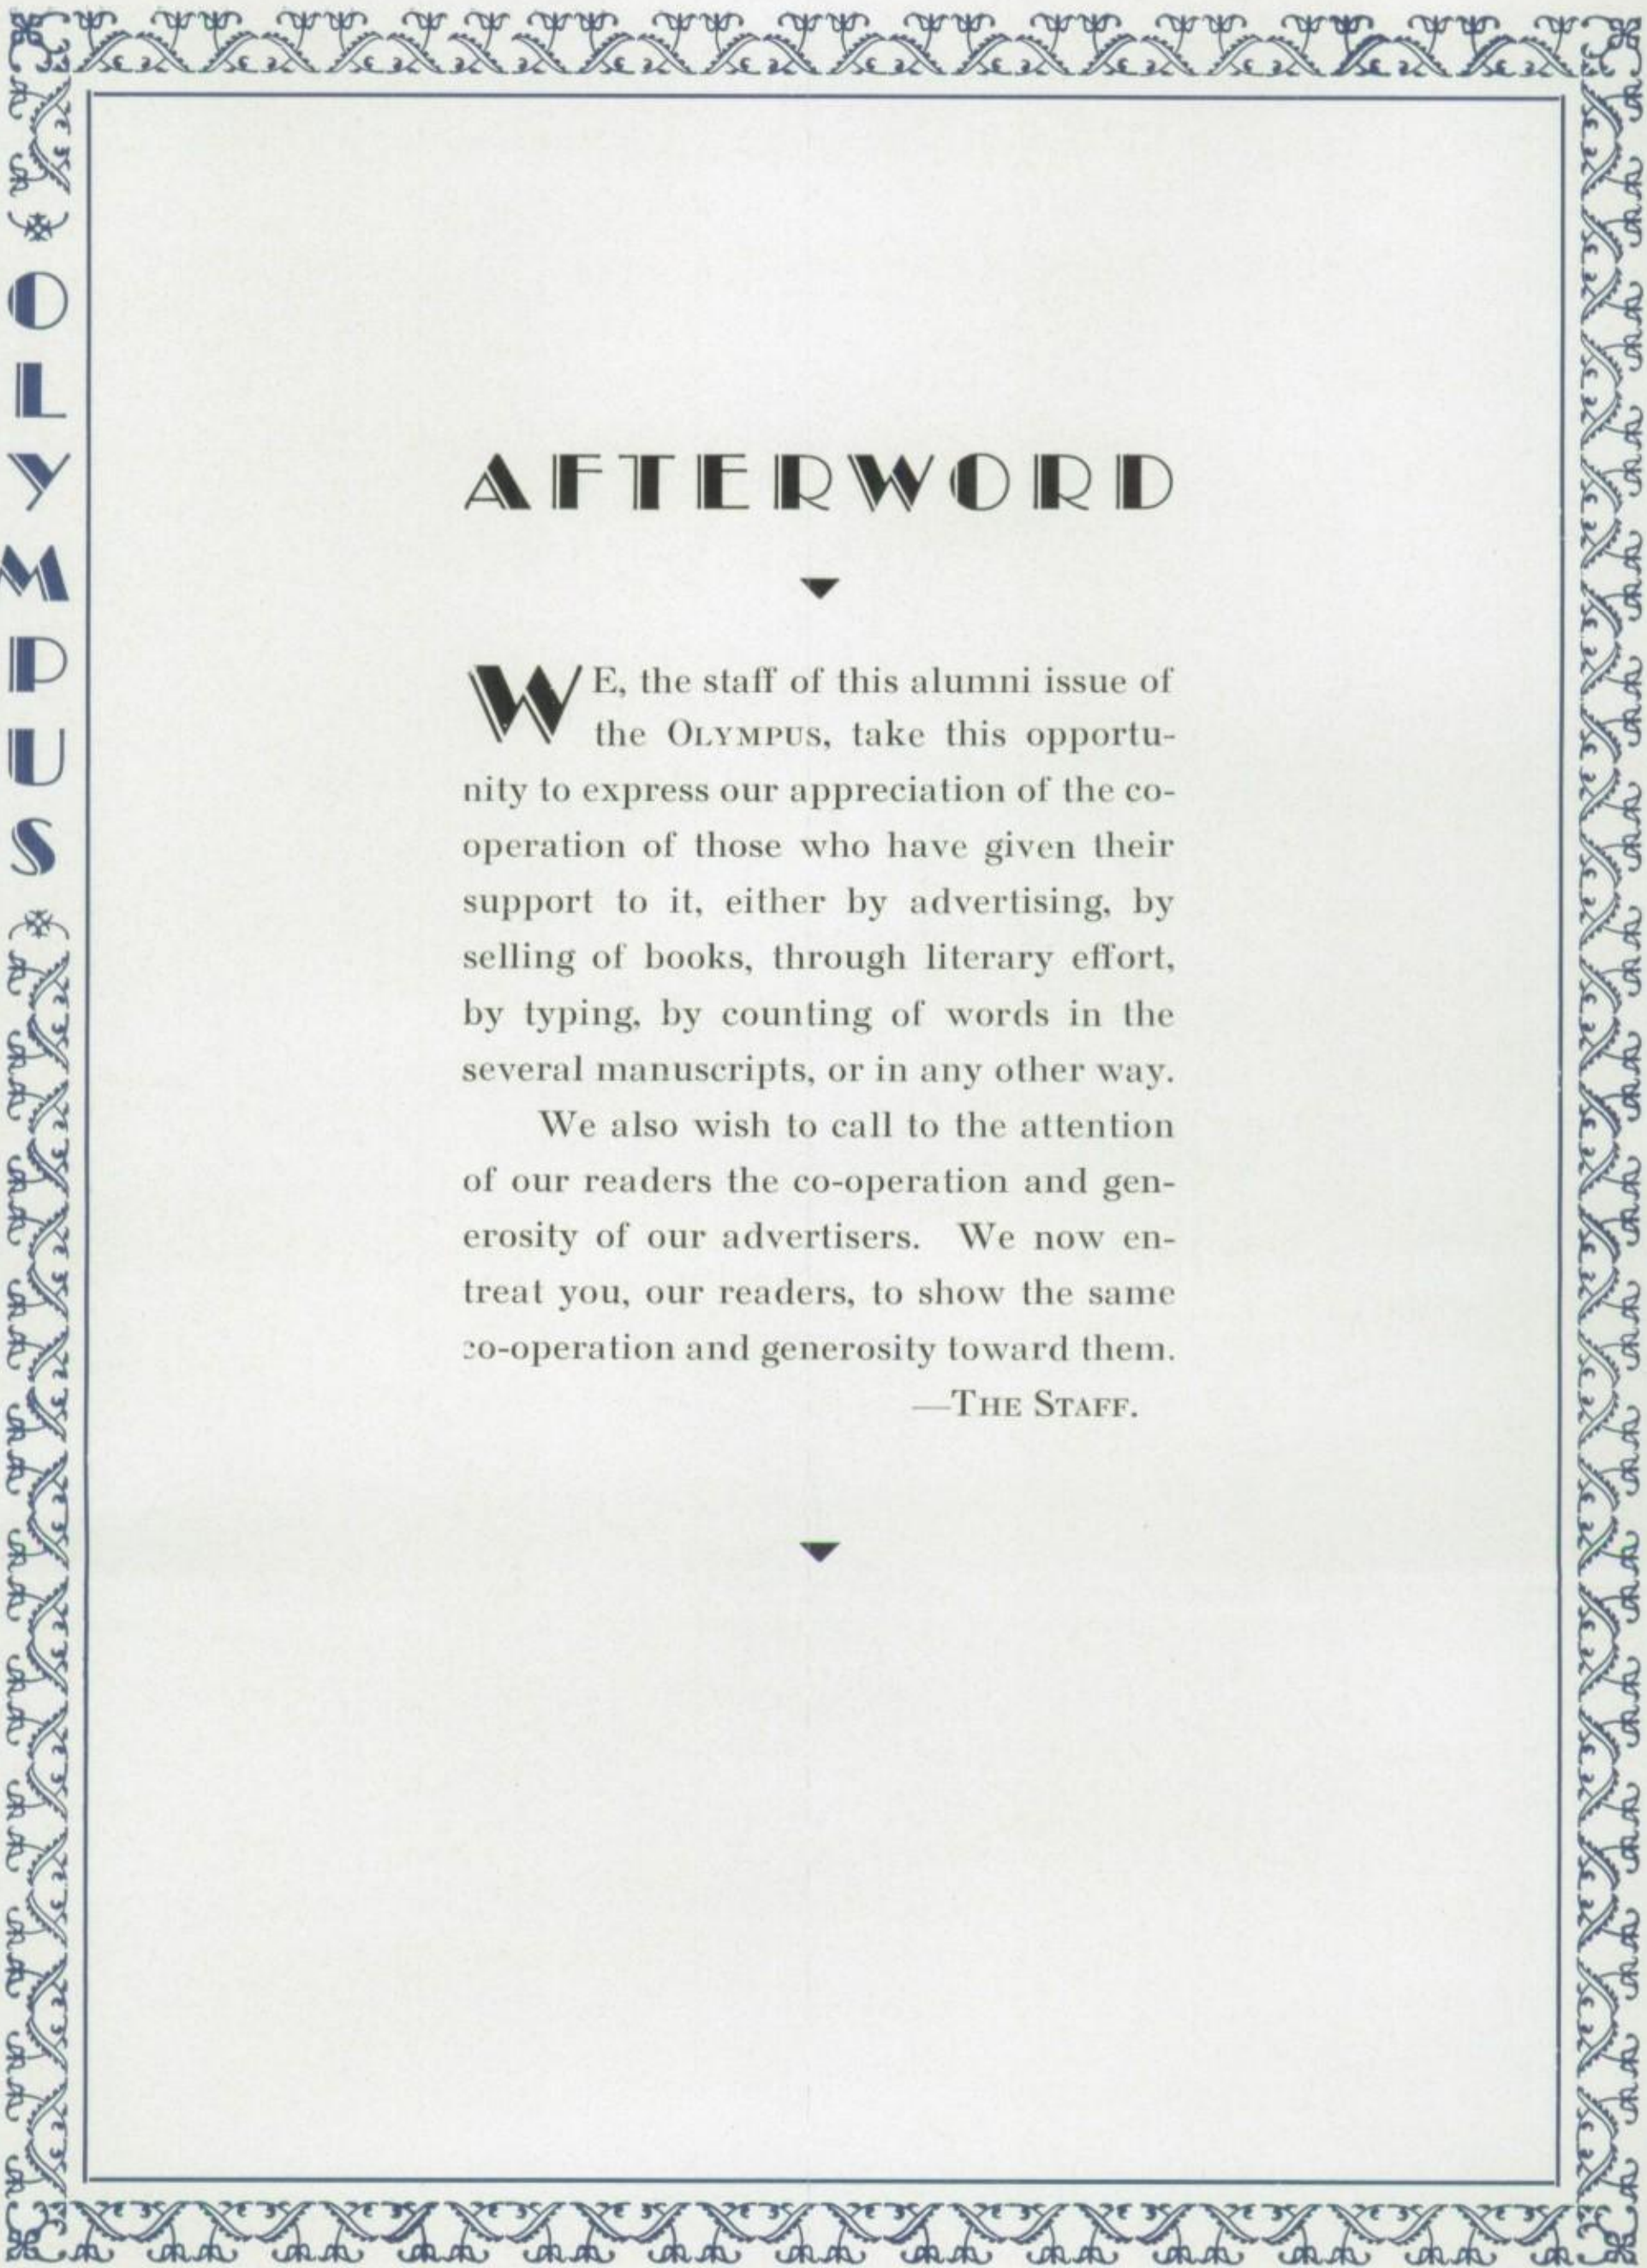

Ralph Rodgers is a junior and student-teacher in Science at Miami University, Miami, Florida.

—FREDA M. HOOTMAN, DIXIE WEIRICH.

N. B.—We thought it would be possible to have the classes of 1930 and 1931 represented, but space prohibits. The Alumni section next year will be devoted to 1930, 1931, and 1932.

—THE STAFF.

AFTERWORD

WE, the staff of this alumni issue of the OLYMPUS, take this opportunity to express our appreciation of the co-operation of those who have given their support to it, either by advertising, by selling of books, through literary effort, by typing, by counting of words in the several manuscripts, or in any other way.

We also wish to call to the attention of our readers the co-operation and generosity of our advertisers. We now entreat you, our readers, to show the same co-operation and generosity toward them.

CLASS OF '32

We take this means of extending greetings to the young graduates, and of wishing them a delightful journey through life—a journey filled with happiness, attended by prosperity, and climaxed by worth while achievement.

You will pass through this life but once. If, therefore, there is any kindness you can show, or any good you can do to any fellow-being, do it now, do not defer or neglect it for you shall not pass this way again.

You are now trying to decide upon your career and we urge you to remember that no matter what line of work you may conclude to enter, you must be specifically trained for that employment or you will surely fail. In other words, a liberal education, valuable as it is, will not prepare you for the first important problem that you will have to solve—that of making a living.

We can point out the way for you—but we cannot decide for you. We urge you to reach out right now and grasp this opportunity of obtaining a Complete Business Training. Care should be given to the selection of a school. Be sure that your credentials come from a school that has an established reputation for high grade work.

We pledge to all who select the Penn State Commercial College our best efforts in conducting practical training courses, and upon graduation, real service in securing a position.

Very sincerely,

PENN STATE COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

19. Basketball game with Claysville.
22. American Problems class gave Washington's Birthday program—a play. Jean Bash was the author.
23. Basketball game with Canonsburg.
24. Affirmative team debate with East Washington.

MARCH

1. Hi-Y initiation.
3. Group pictures taken today.
4. Girl Reserves gave a play at assembly entitled, "Wanted: A Husband." It carried out the leap year spirit.
5. Boys' Basketball Tournament began in Trinity Gymnasium.
7. First big snow of the season. Two hundred and four absent. Wonder if they're snowed in? Band instruments are given to the band pupils of the future and lessons are begun.
8. Bell telephone motion pictures. Interesting and instructive.
11. No assembly because of motion pictures earlier in the week. Double debate with Charleroi. Admiral Byrd's lecture at Washington High School.
18. Coaches Ellwood and Kiblinger present "letters" to the several winners of such honor.
21. First day of spring. Who wears his new spring suit? Did any one say "flowers?" On whom is the joke? Ask Arthur.
23. The "T" Club gives a play.
31. Intramural basketball tournament.

APRIL

1. The fickle month comes in clear and cold, wearing the tattered fragments of a snowy mantle. The orchestra and chorus leave for the County Contest at Donora.
The Go-to-College Club gives a play at assembly. Some members of the Club impersonate members of the faculty and of the student body and present burlesque "assembly." Very funny.
5. The new school band is a reality. They present a creditable program—result of a month's work.
14. The Juniors present the musical comedy, "The Sunbonnet Girl," in matinee for the pupils of the school.
15. "The Sunbonnet Girl" given to the public in the evening performance.
20. The French classes attend, by invitation, a French play given at Washington Seminary under the direction of Mabel Markley, Trinity, '30.
21. The French Club has a special program—stereopticon pictures of Paris and other European cities, handled by Herbert Dunn, Junior.
22. Dinner at the Y. W. C. A. in honor of the Debate Team.
23. The OLYMPUS goes to press. Au revoir!

"We may be old, but we have young ideas."

It is with much gratification that Caldwell's has noted the ever increasing number of young people who are making this progressive store their shopping headquarters. A store 72 years old . . . yet our fixtures and furnishings won't see their first birthday until next Fall! You will find Caldwell's awake to the demands of youth in 1932.

The Doak and Berry Bus Co. is going out of business and leave their charter to Riggle and Ferguson.

The Bobs—Bedillion, Brownlee and McClay—our best dressed men—will give their color scheme to any one on request.

Ermacoff, Chappell, Corsi and Guzzo leave their good class room habits to Korobushkin, Moninger, Pease and Conklin.

Carl Hartley wills his ability to find old model cars to Nelson Morgan.

Joe Ely bequeaths his spelling ability to William Ray.

Opal Dague leaves her talent in singing to Frances Dunning.

Walter Bawell, who holds the walking record from the station to Trinity, leaves the record to his understudy, Louis Garrone.

Wray Jones wills his title of "gigolo" to Ed. Caumo.

Kenny Hunter leaves his tree-pruning skill to Kenny Lusk.

Dorothy Kerns, Anna Marrow, Dorothy Morningstar, Anna Smrekar, and Mary Krulce will their quiet conduct in school to some worthy Junior girls.

Irwin Knox, Frances Mitchell and Murray Curran leave their debating qualities to Clinton Pease, Clara Carlson and William Markley.

The Millers, Moores, Mosiers, Swegers and McClays, having the same name, leave this coincidence to the Baynes, Donaldsons, Harts, Johnsons and the Millers of the Junior class.

Frank Libertore and Stanley McCloskey will their ability to entertain the Freshman girls to Kenneth Lusk and Edward Spiegel.

Samuel Mazza, Betty Weirich, and Eunice Thompson bequeath their ability as actors to some worthy Juniors.

Janet Minton and Mildred Murray will to Mildred Bane, their ability to joyride at noon.

Vance Newland and John Roberts wish to inform the incoming Seniors to beware of those small hours of the morning while on their way home. They say that it makes you sleepy in class the following day.

Fannie Vaughan and Audrey Woods, two inseparable companions, leave their companionship to two Junior girls.

Dorothy Walters, Katherine Shrontz and Olga LeNassi, three very quiet girls, leave—as a goal to be attained—to Margaret Beniger and Lorena Beatty, their wonderful conduct. Their motto, "Silence is Golden," is a good one for the two Juniors.

Avis Pattison, our violinist, leaves her ability to Ann Korobushkin.

Florence Maxwell and Mary McCalmont wish to inform the juniors that Senior English is no easy subject.

Walter Hazlett, who is continually teasing Robert Bristor, wills his tormenting power to Nelson Morgan and George Margien.

Mike Swaylock, our "happy-go-lucky" Senior, leaves this to John Jarosik.

Lena Sim is our gay Senior girl who is constantly giggling. This quality is left to the Junior athlete, Ann Mazur.
